

Intervention

Workshop on changing attitudes and values

Change Phase

INTEREST / TRIAL

Description

A workshop wherein you concentrate on changing attitudes and values that go along with the change. Give a short introduction on the change and then let people talk about how they see the changing attitudes and values. Ask for specific examples. Give some yourself if the correct ones don't come up. Changing attitudes and values is terribly difficult in a top-down way. In our opinion, the best way is to share good examples, and to let people talk and come up with their own examples. Do not reject values (values are very personal), but look for ways to link your own values with the values that become important by the change.