

Intervention

Individual coaching

Change Phase

TRIAL

Description

Different possibilities exist. You can train internal people/leaders in coaching skills so that they can more effectively coach people during the trial phase.

You can also hire external coaches for people, which has a high impact on the change and which needs some extra support to quickly acquire the necessary skills and/or attitudes.